

ROMERA is a medium late, cooking type B ware potato with bright red skin. It is high yielding and produces attractive tubers with deep yellow flesh colour and excellent culinary quality. Romera shows a very good tolerance against second growth, Rizoctonia, leaf blight internal rust spot and common scab.

Plant

|                     |                           |
|---------------------|---------------------------|
| Maturity Group      | medium late               |
| Plant Type          | intermediate              |
| Growth Habit        | semi - upright to upright |
| Colour of Flower    | redviolett                |
| Foliage Development | medium                    |
| Number of Tubers    | medium                    |
| Dormancy            | long                      |

Resistances

|                    |                     |
|--------------------|---------------------|
| Potato Wart        | under investigation |
| Nematodes          | under investigation |
| Leaf Blight        | medium to high      |
| Scab               | high                |
| Rhizoctonia        | medium to high      |
| Internal Rust Spot | medium to high      |
| Bruising           | medium to high      |
| PVY                | high                |
| Secondary growth   | medium to high      |

Tuber Characteristics

|                     |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| Tuber Shape         | oval            |
| Flesh Colour        | yellow          |
| Eye Depth           | shallow         |
| Skin Colour         | red             |
| Skin Characteristic | slightly netted |

Yield and Quality

|                      |               |
|----------------------|---------------|
| Market Outlet        | ware potato   |
| Yield                | high          |
| Share Oversize       | medium        |
| Share Undersize      | low           |
| Cooking Type         | B             |
| Discoloration Cooked | low to medium |
| Dry Matter           | medium (20%)  |

Hanse Seed Corp.; 803 Nandina Dr. Weston, FL 33327 Tel +954-217.09.64
Varieties by Solana Germany